4. THE NEXT STEPS IN THE PROCESS

4.1 Shortlisting
Shortlisting is used at Aarhus University. This means that an appointment committee (assisted by the chair of the assessment committee) advises the head of department on which applicants are the best overall match for the department’s and the faculty’s recruitment needs and which possess the qualifications, competencies, experience and potential described in the job advertisement, including the faculty’s Criteria for evaluating candidates to permanent positions. Through the shortlisting process, the head of department selects the applicants who are to receive a thorough assessment of their professional qualifications. These applicants will then be assessed by the assessment committee.

HR is responsible for informing applicants whose applications are not shortlisted for assessment immediately after the shortlist has been determined. Final rejections are sent at the conclusion of the recruitment process.

4.2 Assessment committee – tasks and process
Applicants who are selected for assessment after shortlisting are informed of the composition of the assessment committee by HR. The identity of the applicants is confidential. The individual applicants thus do not receive information about the names of the other applicants for the position.

There must be no contact between the members of the assessment committee and the individual applicants in matters of relevance to the assessment.

The assessment committee must prepare individual written assessments of all applicants on the shortlist. The committee must consider which applicants it considers to be qualified or not qualified in regard to research, teaching and/or public-sector consultancy tasks, as well as in relation to the other academic qualification requirements specified in the job advertisement. In assessing the individual applicant, the committee must base its assessment on the faculty’s Criteria for evaluating candidates to permanent positions.

Once the assessment is complete, each applicant receives the assessment of his or her own application. Each applicant will be given an opportunity to comment on the assessment. An applicant may only progress in the recruitment process if a majority of the members of the assessment committee have found the applicant to be academically qualified for the position.

4.3 Assessment committee – tasks and process
On the basis of the assessments, the appointment committee advises the head of department regarding the selection of applicants to be offered an interview.

Prior to the interviews, applicants may be called in to an event at the department, for example a lecture, a meeting with permanent academic staff, or (where relevant) a meeting with the department’s education committee or public-sector consultancy committee in order to gain an impression of the applicants in relation to the department and the tasks involved in the position.

The appointment committee participates in the interviews. The presence of the department’s HR partner is optional.

Appointment of temporary academic staff members:
On the background of the appointment committee’s advice and discussions with the department management team, the head of department makes the final decision regarding appointment.

2The document 'Criteria for evaluating candidates to permanent positions' covers the job categories associate professor, senior researcher, senior adviser, professor and professor with special responsibilities (MSO).
Appointments to permanent academic positions:
On the background of the appointment committee’s advice and discussions with the department management team, the head of department may decide to recommend/not to recommend the applicant for employment to the dean.

4.4 The Tenure and Promotion Committee – tasks and process
The Faculty of Science and Technology has established a Tenure and Promotion Committee. The committee advises the dean in connection with all appointments to permanent academic positions.
